War Efficiency and National Prosperity

More than a billion and a half dollars distributed in Canada for exported agricultural produce and the products of labor in the fiscal year ending March 31, 1918, has kept Canada busy and prosperous in spite of the war.

CANADA'S production in such enormous quantities was made possible only by the money received through Canada's War Loans. Canada thus was enabled to assist the Allies in their purchases here by establishing financial credits for their use in this country.

CANADA'S war loans not only have sustained Canada's war effort, but they have kept the wheels of production turning as they never turned before.

This is the flood of cash which poured in to Canada's farms for their exports in the fiscal year 1918, for:

Butter.....	$ 2,000,000
Cheese.....	36,602,000
Eggs.....	2,271,000
Oats.....	37,644,000
Wheat.....	366,341,000
Flour.....	95,896,000
Meats.....	76,729,000
Vegetables.....	19,034,000

Over six hundred and thirty-six million dollars for exported farm products alone!

AND the workers of Canada also shared greatly in Canada's export trade.

For their products there was distributed in Canada, during the year:

Munitions.....	$450,000,000
Metals.....	92,083,000
Vehicles.....	22,776,000
Wood Pulp and Paper.....	59,599,000

These huge sums were spent in Canada by the Allies.

Canada's own war expenditure for the fiscal year 1918 was $342,762,000.

And the bulk of all these expenditures, the foundation of Canada's prosperity and war effectiveness, was made possible only because the subscribers to Canada's war loans furnished the working capital.

CANADA must keep this great work going—must produce as never before; must work, fight, save and lend as she has never yet done to bring victory and a lasting peace to a war-ridden world.

But Canada to-day (thanks to her great export trade), is in a better position now than ever, to carry on.

The Victory Loan 1918 will keep Canada busy, will enable her to maintain her great export business; and it will make Canada more efficient than ever, because her prosperity will not be diminished and her determination to work, fight and win will be stronger than it has ever been before.

Don't Falter!

There has been no action of the German government or German armies in the field since Maximilian's request for an armistice to indicate that that request was dictated by a sincere desire to bring the war to an early termination upon such basis as would be acceptable to the nations interested among the allies. On the contrary every military move of the Central Powers since that time has been a further aggravation of the differences existing between the combatants.

That being so it is worse than foolish for people in Allied countries to delude themselves with the hope that peace is in sight. It is not and there is no indication that it will be until the Germans have been fought to a standstill on their own soil. When they have been driven over the borders of Belgium and France it will be time to figure on how long it will take to bring peace, but not before. If peace should come before then it will be as a result of conditions or through some agency not as yet visible.

Meanwhile there should be no talk or thought of peace if that means any lessening of Allied effort to win victory in the field. That in itself, if it should happen, would be a sufficient success for the enemy from his peace offensive. It would still further delay the final issue and make the cost of final triumph still more staggering. There is no delusion among the leaders of the nations in this respect. They have heard the German appeal, but are proceeding with further and more extended war programmes just as if there had been no siren voice from Berlin.

General Marsh, of the United States military administration, announces that the present is no time to hang back. Says he: "The maximum resources of the nation in men and money must be hurled at the Hun to make victory certain, and while the movement of soldiers across the water is continuing, the war department is preparing another 2,000,000 men to follow the first 2,000,000."

Sir Thomas White, Canada's finance minister, deprecates the notion that there should be less financial effort in the war because recent victories have brought peace appreciably nearer, and adds that the war is likely to last a considerable time yet before final victory is achieved, for which reason there is the utmost necessity that we should make the new Victory Loan an overwhelming success.

The words of these men are words of wisdom and should be taken to heart by the people.

Captain Briggs has appeared on the Chautauqua platform all over the United States as well as through Canada. His audiences have accorded him the closest attention and the newspapers have been loud in their praise of the wonderful work this forceful speaker is doing. Your Bond may win the war Buy Victory Bonds

Use Your Dollars To end War

If my dollar will drive the enemy back from despoiling Europe and threatening America, here it goes! I will put all I can spare into a Victory Bond, to help old Canada finance its own war burdens, or secure for Great Britain a plentiful supply of foodstuffs.

For it is not the rich man's pile that counts most. It is the accumulation of purchases made by farmers and rural business men from every corner of Canada that swells the total and strikes terror to the heart of our enemy.

When dollars can fight, let us wheel every one of them into line and so hasten the peace that must come when our golden impact strikes the front line. He is a patriot and helper indeed who saves for Victory Bonds.

LARRY GETS HIS

Our old friend Larry Dorsey got into a little argument a few days ago with his mutual friend Libor Peterka. Larry was crossing Peterka's land, when the latter came out and said a few things to him very emphatically. It is said that Larry made a strategic retreat, on this occasion, not wishing to make any international trouble. But the old saying "He who fights and runs away, will live to fight another day" came true.

On Monday Larry was over near the station, when he came face to face with his friend Peterka, and leading up from a little friendly intercourse, a battle royal almost developed. It would have probably developed had not Larry had taken time for the forelock, and a club in his other hand, smote Peterka on the arm. Larry was under the impression at the time that Libor was going to pull a "gut" on him, as he avers that on more than one occasion the threat of shooting him on sight had been made. And Larry makes a fair mark for a shootist, no matter how had a marksman he might be. A man who would miss Larry would be a bad shot indeed, and we cannot blame him for not taking chances. Then Peterka, went up to Magistrate C. C. Switzer and laid an information against Larry, charging him with smiting him on his arm.

The case came up on Monday evening before the aforesaid magistrate, and in spite of Larry's able defence he was found guilty of assaulting Peterka, and fined one buck and also the costs—heavy on the costs. Larry swore that he thought Peterka was pulling a gun on him, and his evidence was backed by other witnesses, but Peterka was given the decision in spite of everything.

We do hate to say anything about the Justice of the Peace in Alberta—(we were once one ourselves but had sense enough to quit while the quitting was good), but we do think that the Attorney-General should use more discretion in his appointments. There are men on the J.P. list in Alberta who are a menace to the administration of justice, in fact who make the administration of our laws a joke—or worse. Men who may have been most able judges in their earlier life, grow old just like we common people, and as age advances judgment is very apt to be warped. And it is not fair to the general public that men of unsound judgment should have anything to do with the administration of justice.

The Attorney-General should be asked to revise his list of Justices of the peace in Alberta at once.

Subscriptions may be paid in full at the time of application at 100 without interest; or on any instalment due date thereafter together with accrued interest to date of making payment in full. Under this provision, payment of subscriptions may be made as follows:

Advice Regarding Influenza

Work and sleep in clean fresh air.

Eat nourishing food and drink plenty of water. Don't put in your mouth anything that may be infected. Avoid crowds.

Avoid people with colds or sore throats. Cough and sneeze into your handkerchief and see that others do the same.

Consequently it is of the utmost importance, as a preventive measure to keep out of crowded places as much as possible, especially when one is tired. Even more important is the leading of a hygienic life-avoidance of late hours, over-eating, etc.

Observation goes to show that, like any other germ disease, this Spanish Influenza's germ power to harm is proportioned to the resistive vitality of those whom it attacks. If the resistive vitality is thrown off quickly, it may be thrown off quickly. But if the resistive vitality is chronically, or temporarily, low from any cause, the development of acute, or perhaps serious symptoms, must be looked for.
